George D. Copeland, of this city, was honored at the annual meeting of the Ohio Grand Lodge of Masons, held in Canton, Thursday. Mr. Copeland was chosen to the office of grand master, the highest station to be reached in the state.

This election of Mr. Copeland, following closely on the election of M. B. Dickerson, as most illustrious grand master of the Grand Council, last week, gives Marion unusual prominence in Ohio Masonic circles.

The remainder of the officers for the coming year, selected by election and by appointment at the hands of the new grand master, are as follows:

Deputy Grand Master, C. S. Hokin, of Zanesville.
Senior Grand Warden, B. F. Perry, Jr., of Jefferson.
Junior Grand Warden, Harry S. Kissell, Jr., of Springfield.
Grand Treasurer, Ralph R. Rickly, of Columbus.

Grand Secretary, Judge J. H. Brownell, of Cincinnati.
Grand Chaplain, Rev. Paul R. Hickok of Delaware.

The Masonic Veterans' association of Ohio, composed of Masons of not less than 21 years affiliation, elected officers for the year as follows:

President, William M. Cunningham of Newark.
Vice Presidents, J. L. Long, of Ottawa; H. A. Irwin, of Dayton, and Ed. L. Lybarger, of Warsaw.

Secretary and Treasurer, Edwin Morrell, of Columbus.

Assistant Secretary, Ed. H. Archer of Columbus.

Marshal, I. M. McCormick, of Ray. Sentinel, J. W. Parsons, of Springfield.

The program for the big district Knights of Pythias meeting to be held here Tuesday afternoon and evening has been completed. Every day the district deputy, Charles H. Conley, is receiving communications from lodges in Delaware, Marion, Morrow and Union counties, comprising the district, stating that delegations will be sent. It is expected that fully 500 visitors will be in the city.

The meeting will extend during the afternoon and evening. The session in the afternoon will be open to the public but in the evening it will be open only to Knights of Pythias. Two candidates will be given the rank of knight by the team of Marion lodge No. 402.

The address of welcome will be given by Warren G. Harding and the response will be given by H. H. Beecher, mayor of Delaware. The meeting will be opened with an invocation by Rev. J. P. Curran, pastor of the First Baptist church.

Addresses will be given by A. E. Kerns, of Findlay, grand chancellor of Ohio; W. L. David, of Findlay, prosecuting attorney of Hancock county; William Beatty, of Toledo, grand keeper of records and seals; William F. Bruce, of Mt. Gilead, past grand chancellor of Ohio; Robert Carney, of Dayton, master of work of the famous Iola degree team; Judge B. G. Young, Fred E. Guthery, and Congressman Grant E. Mouser. G. W. Kern, of Dayton, who appeared here as a soloist, in the Knights of Pythias minstrel, will sing several selections. A local orchestra will play during the afternoon.

Marion Commandery, No. 36, Knights Templars, held a well attended meeting at the Masonic Temple, Thursday evening and attended to business of importance. Arrangements were made for sending a delegation to the next grand commandery meeting to be held in Cincinnati, October 14, 1908. A committee composed of Dan Evans, M. B. Dickerson and James A. Knapp was named to arrange for the trip.

Arrangements were made for degree work to take place the 24th and 31st of this month.

Marion Lodge of Elks, No. 32, initiated two candidates at a regular meeting held in its hall on East Center street Thursday evening. Plans were also discussed for the "no-nium" race to be held at the lodge hall some time in November. Albert Howe chairman of the committee, planning for a series of dances to be given during the winter, reported that encouraging progress is being made.

The members of Kosciusko Lodge, No. 58, I. O. O. F., will go to Green Camp this evening, to attend the county meeting to take place there. The degree staff of the local lodge will put on the work. The Marion party will make the trip on a special C. D. & M. car, going from Owens to Green Camp on the new branch line, which was recently completed.

The Companion of Foresters met last night with a fair attendance. Arrangements were made for holding a Halloween social on the evening of October 31. The guard of honor also formulated plans for going to Galton on November 14, where it will assist in the work of initiating a large class of candidates.

Wayside Lodge I. O. O. F., met with a large attendance last night. Aside from considering the usual routine business final arrangements were made for attending in a body the county convention to be held at Galton Camp tonight. It was decided to leave on the 6 o'clock interurban car and return on a special at midnight.

The Druids held their first nominations at a regular meeting last night. The second nominations will be made at next week's meeting and the annual election will occur on the week following. After the business session refreshments were served and a smoker was enjoyed.

The Protected Home Circle will hold an important business meeting in the Red Men's hall this evening. A large attendance is desired.

HON. FRANK B. REYNOLDS

Who is to lecture at the Free Baptist church Monday evening, October 21st, is a good thinker and an inspiring orator. Below are some comments on his lecture:

"Mr. Reynolds enters without preface upon the masterpiece of study and eloquence, which exhibits enormous research and brings vividly to the mind in a simple and concise form the greatest trial in the world."

"The way the subject was treated was exceptionally interesting and instructive. The audience was held spell bound."

A Woman's Oath.

"Do I believe a woman under oath?" commented a judge whose name has figured prominently in many big cases. "Well, and there was a twinkle in the judicial eye. 'I'll tell you what I know about women in that connection and perhaps you can figure it out for yourself. If a woman likes a lawyer or the judge or the defendant at the bar or any one who happens to be related to him, she will swear to anything that she thinks will help him win his case. Not purposely, certainly, but that's the peculiar kink in a woman's mind. Whatever she wants to believe, she does believe, and honestly believes it to be true, and the same is good of the opposite proposition. If she dislikes a man, nothing she can say will be too bad for him; if she likes him she can't say anything good enough. Now, do you still want an answer to that question?'—San Francisco Call.

Clean Chopsticks, Sure.

"Seeing these quill toothpicks done up in paper envelopes in the hotels here," said the man from the Far East, "reminds me of the Japanese eating places."

In the bigger hotels or restaurants they hand you the chopsticks done up in a sealed envelope. This is with the idea of convincing you that they never have been used before, which is not always so.

"In the cheaper restaurants they have a much better plan for setting your mind at rest. There you get a piece of wood as broad as two chopsticks, split to within an inch of the end."

"When you take this piece of wood you split it the rest of the way and there you have the two sticks. You can be sure then that no other person has used them."

The Police Population.
Today a uniformed, organized and disciplined police force for a systematic patrol of the streets exists not only in all large cities of the world, but also in every considerable town in Europe and America. The London force of 14,000 constitutes by far the largest body, while other large cities follow in the order of their population—New York, 10,000; Paris, 7,000; Berlin, 4,200; Vienna, 3,400. These are not only the largest in total number of men, but in each case they represent the largest number of policemen in proportion to population, as compared with other towns in the same country.

His Cigar Doesn't Taste Right.

And Yet it was the Same He was Smoking with on Much Relief After Dinner, Last Night. Out of the Very Same Box, Too.

IT ISN'T THE CIGAR—IT'S THE STOMACH.

Every smoker has experienced this peculiar condition of the stomach and liver, the result usually of imperfect digestion of food. And the blame is usually put on the cigar and not where it belongs.

Such men are usually high livered, hard workers mentally, living under high pressure and high draught, and it doesn't take a great deal to disorder the stomach or render the liver torpid.

They should make it a practice to use some tried and reliable remedy like Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, that will aid nature and not force it, and will take care of the sudden attacks of acute indigestion.

The use of these tablets is not to be confounded with the patent medicine habit. Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are not a patent medicine, but are composed of the very elements which nature provides the healthy stomach to do the work of digestion—pepsin, diastase, golden seal, etc.

There is no secret in their preparation—they are absolutely pure and therefore all the world uses them.

No matter how disordered the stomach may be, it will right itself if given the chance. Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will digest food where the stomach can't, give the abused stomach and intestines a rest, and offer renewed strength to the worn out glands and muscles.

Brain workers can rely on Stuart's Dyspepsia tablets, no matter how tense the strain. All druggists carry them in the fifty cent packages, or if you prefer a free trial package can be had by sending your name and address today. F. A. Stuart Company, 50 Stuart Building, Marshall, Mich.

AN AGED BRITISH TREE.
Crowthorpe Oak, Regarded 500 Years Old, Flourishing in Yorkshire.

One of the oldest of British trees is the Crowthorpe oak, which has been standing near Wetherby in Yorkshire for 500 years, according to veracious chronicle. It is a tree that has been described often and has figured in works of fiction.

It is related of this tree that on occasion as many as forty persons have been gathered within the hollow of its trunk, although it must be confessed that some of these were children. The most recent measurement showed that its girth of trunk at the ground was 54 feet 3 inches and the cavity was 11 feet by 9 feet.

The tree is not now so very tall, reaching only 37 feet into the air. There are twenty-five props about the tree to support the falling branches.

The cavity has been noticeable only since the beginning of the nineteenth century. Many of the earlier measurements show that the tree once was much greater in girth than now.

Aged as it is the tree bore acorns in 1901 and 1905 and always produces a fair amount of foliage. In 1833 an acorn borne by the Crowthorpe oak was planted near by and a tree is growing up slowly as a memorial to the parent.

DINA MOE AND DINA MITE.
Second Answer Gave Young Lover Cause to Mope.

Mr. Cracker, a young colored gentleman of our city, had just obtained employment in one of our department stores as an experienced porter but after a short time proved to be unfit for the position. Being fired, he therefore gained the nickname of Fire Cracker. Fire Cracker was deeply in love with a young woman of his own race of the name of Miss Moe, and after a short acquaintance found that her surname was Dina. He went to Dina Moe and said:

"Dina Moe, does you lub me?"

"She quickly replied, 'No.'"

Not being disheartened and at the same time remembering the motto he learned at school—"If at first you don't succeed, try, try again"—he went to Dina Moe again and said,

"Dina Moe, could you hears to lub me?"

"Dina this time rolled the white of her eyes and looked Fire Cracker in the face, answered,

"Dina Mite!"—Judge's Library.

YOUNG BLOOD WANTED

For the Marion Ohio and Penn. Team.

Board of Directors now Working to Secure a Competent Man for Manager.

The directors of the local club will have plenty of opportunities to work a number of trades with other clubs in the Ohio pennsylvania league and with other leagues in this section of the country during the coming winter and spring and it is probable that some deal will be worked that will give Marion a strong club for next year.

The annual meeting of the league will be held at Cleveland early in November and until that time there will not be much doing in local baseball circles. A number of men are being considered for the management of the local club next year, but no one seems to have the inside track. The management is in receipt of a letter from Charles M. O'Day, manager of the Matapon, Ill., club of the Three I league. O'Day states that he would like to manage the local club next season and if elected manager he will bring two stars a catcher and an outfielder, both of whom should be ripe enough for the major leagues next year. The application of O'Day as well as those of other managers will be carefully considered by the directors before a selection is made.

Mansfield has a hunch that some of the Lime Burners would fill up the weak places in the Tiger line-up. Manager McVey would like to arrange a trade for Tim Flood, Farrell, Blake or Dithridge. In fact the club would like to get all of the quartette if possible. What the Tigers would offer in return is not made public.

Other clubs, too, would like to trade for some of the Lime Burners and as soon as the manager is selected it is probable that the trading game will be entered with a vim. While some of the members of last year's team are great ball players, it is doubtful whether they will ever do any particular good in this city and it is thought best to get new talent.

It is hardly probable that any of the pitchers, with the possible exception of Blough, will go elsewhere next year. Burk, a youngster this year, gained valuable experience with the old heads on the clubs, and should be ripe for some great performances next year. Fox, always reliable, will most certainly be retained and can be depended upon for good, consistent work at all times. Wilmot and Lucas, two of the hardest working pitchers in the bunch, will be held as both should be able to deliver the goods. Lucas is also the most valuable utility man in the league, and the club can afford to pay his salary even if he does not pitch a game during the summer.

In the outfield there will probably be some changes. It is certain that Smiler Tate will be back with the advent of the robins. The big fellow's ankle is in good shape again and he expects to lead the O-P. swatters again next year. Quinn wants to get away from Marion to take a better job, but it is doubtful if he will be released without a good sized money consideration. Bob is popular with the local fans because he is working hard all the time and his conduct both on and off the field is beyond reproach.

Red Farrell wants to come back to Marion next year, and promises to be real good. Red's case is still unsettled and the directors will make no statement as to what will be done with him. Dithridge's case is practically as unsettled as is Farrell's.

In regard to the remainder of the team, very little is known even by the directors of the club. All of the men are subject to draft and it is expected that the Class "A" clubs will gobble up some of the men.

When the new manager is elected, he will be given full swing and will be held accountable for the standing of the club. A first division club is promised for next year and unless a manager can get together a first division club and make the men play ball from the opening to the close of the season, he is not the man the directors are looking for.

GOOD BLOOD

NATURE'S PROTECTION AGAINST DISEASE

The preservation of health and prevention against disease is almost entirely dependent upon pure, healthy blood; every organ, tissue, nerve and sinew of the body draws on this vital fluid for nourishment and strength. Poisons, humors and germs from various sources often get into the blood, and then this great life-stream becomes a source of infection and disease. Instead of a nourishing, health-sustaining fluid, heredity likewise an important factor, regulating the quality of the blood. Some persons are born with tainted blood from diseased ancestry, and Scrofula in one of its numerous forms is sure to crop out some time in life. Not only poison in the blood is responsible for disease, but when the circulation is run down and becomes poor and weak in quality, then we see the effect in a general bad condition of health, such as weakness, sallow complexion, boils and various skin eruptions. S.S.S. blood tablets require a tonic and blood purifier, and none other equals S.S.S. It goes down to the very foundation of the trouble, and removes every particle of the poison or impurity from the blood. And not only does S.S.S. antidote the poisons, humors and germs, but it possesses health-giving, tonic properties, which build up and strengthen weak, impoverished blood, and fortifies the system against disease. S.S.S. permanently cures Rheumatism, Catarrh, Sores and Ulcers, Scrofula, Eczema, Tetter, and all other skin diseases and disorders. Look on the blood and any medical advice free.

SHORT SLEEVES ROUT CUPID.

New York Swain Balke When He Sees Prospective Bride's Elbow.

Glens Falls, N. Y.—The romance of George Thurston and Carrie Hart has been shattered, and all because young Thurston refused to take for better or for worse a woman who wore short sleeved gowns.

Thurston is a well-to-do farmer living in the outskirts of the town. Some months ago he decided that he had lived long enough without a spouse, and advertised for one who "cooked well, liked music, and dressed modestly." The advertisement was placed in a New York city newspaper, and Mr. Thurston received a multitude of answers. In fact, for several days his mail was heavy with letters and pictures of young women, widows, and elderly spinners who were anxious to venture upon the sea of matrimony.

Of all those who wrote Miss Hart, at Glens Falls Thurston's fancy most, and he opened correspondence with her. The young woman seemed to answer all the requirements, and after photographs had been exchanged and the farmer had looked the woman up through a firm of lawyers he made her a proposal of marriage, and the wedding day was set.

When Miss Hart got off the train at Glens Falls Thurston was horrified to observe that she wore a gown with short sleeves.

"Do you call those modest?" he asked almost before they had exchanged greetings.

"Call what modest?" gasped Miss Hart, too surprised to comprehend.

"Those sleeves," said Thurston, pointing to the offending gown. "I think they are awful."

Miss Hart was incensed. She declared that her gown was of the latest mode; the best people wore just such, and if Thurston didn't like the way she dressed she would go home. And home she went on the first train.

Thurston said he didn't care what the style was, that he knew what modesty was, and that she could go if she liked.

Now he thinks he'll look around Glens Falls and see if he can find the kind of a spouse he wants and one who will wear sleeves to the wrist.

GREEN HATS NOW THE VOGUE.

Returning American Tourists Adopt Edward's Headgear.

New York.—Green hats, such as King Edward of England wore during his recent visit to the continent, are now the vogue with the returning American tourists. The voyagers which arrived here last week rejoiced in them, and several completed the color scheme by wearing ties and scarves of the same shade.

It is declared that the fashion is spreading over Europe, and the men travelers count their trip incomplete unless they have such hats as these. The headgear is shaped on the Alpine model, and looks not unlike some of the pictures seen in the Tyrol. The ribbon of green which adorns it is wide and ends in a fluffy flourish.

Among those who have recently come back with the new style from abroad are R. A. C. Smith, who has been visiting Sir Thomas Lipton, and J. De Mont Thompson, an enthusiastic automobilist. Mr. Thompson wore an especially attractive hat of green, and his four-in-hand tie matched the headgear.

New York haters seem much perturbed over the innovation and declare that it is not likely to spread on this side of the water. Blocks for the present season had been determined upon before the idea from abroad, which now has royal sanction, began to spread to these shores. The prevailing hues in the fedora or Alpine shapes are neutral grays, and, compared with the vividly green ones, they look like Quakers traveling in the company of gayly dressed cavaliers.
